Now it came to pass in the last days of the sixth month that Summer began to wane then, and Fall descended upon the land. Nothing in that country was untouched by color, neither the leaves nor the people, nor the Games. And all who journeyed into the Hill were amazed and wondered at sights. It is written in the commandments that Fall shall be the time for the new flock to be original, and the old renewed, and so it was. And thus, Fall was received and welcomed.

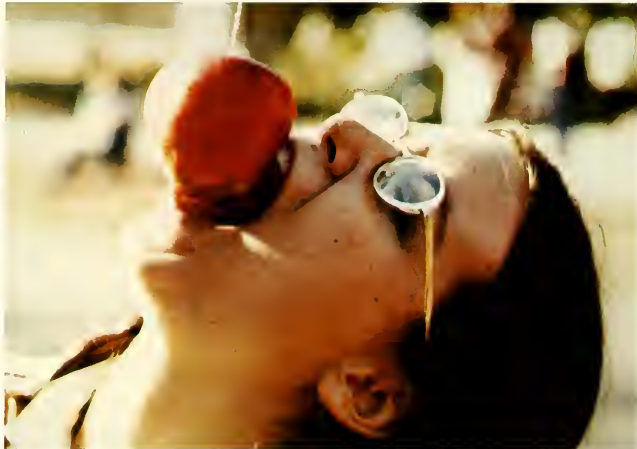

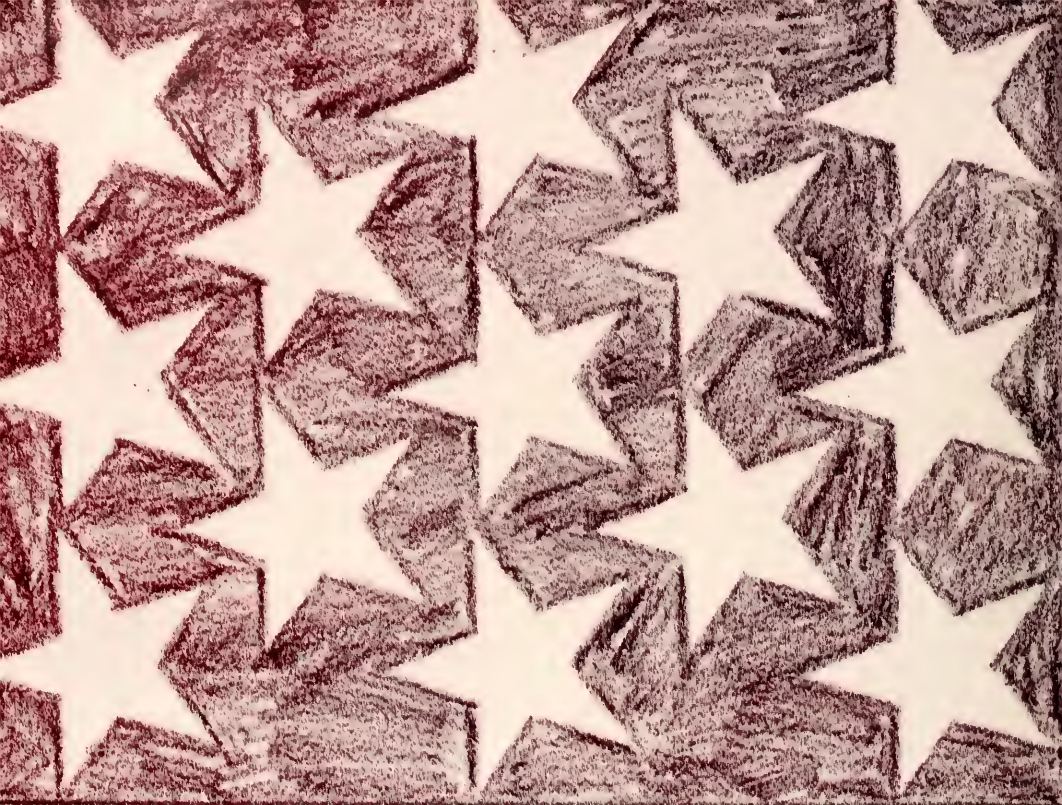

Kooka Racha Koo

*And the armies of nations shall come upon the slain
And the cities shall set to the pulley and carted their banners shouting There will be with us*

*and if he is with us, everyone will be against us;
for his neck is red and his socks, they be white;
and all of Washington will laugh at the sight.
The Greek shall reign no more, no more.
The world shall end.
Amen. Amen."*

And it came to pass in the days before the feast of the sacrificial game that there arose one who was the Head, known among his tribe as the prophet William. And he opened his mouth and gnashed his teeth saying: "Verily, verily I say unto you; greatly shall you fear your enemy the Blue Devil, lest he steal upon you and weaken your defense and your secondary; for the levvri shall be stricken from the polls." Whenceforth the scribes did write his words upon the Daily Scroll and read them to the people; and lo, they were sore amazed.

Now there went out in those days a decree from Caesar Alumnus that everyone should be smashed. And all came unto the Hill, each from his own city, that they might be filled to the fullest measure thereof. Now included among the multitudes was Joe Carolina and his wife Mary, but there was no room for them at the Inn, for they both not reservations.

Then it was that the sacred Ram was brought forth before the people amidst trumpets and banners, and each one praised it with loud voices. And the possessions and the interceptions were the first quarter; and the fumbles and the recoveries were the second quarter; and these plus more were the third quarter. Then it came to pass that two touchdowns were the fourth quarter, and the Devils returned to their fiery refuge across the way; yea, even with their tails between their legs with embarrassment.

*And then there cometh the woe of the great concert draught.
The people were up on arms, and there was much talk of the scarcity of concertos around the Wall.*

*But though they did come to perform on the arena,
They filled the place with their horns, their fiddles, their lutes,
And there were their elephants.*

*At the end of the year,
The multitudes surveyed the concert situation
And they were mildly pleased —
But certainly there was no great jubilation!*

*Then the rains came, and the winds did blow,
for it was yet another season, even unto the New Year.
Whence forth the people journeyed unto their homes for a break, and when they returned, lo, there was a great snow to greet them.
And their chains rattled for four days and four nights.*

Thus they began a new semester, for the old registration hath passed away.

*Yea though the courses be new,
the routine becometh old again.
And so, they wailed into the Grind,
Even as Winter froze them.*

Apple Chill Fair

*Now then, came a great change upon the face of the Hill
The green returned to the grass
the leaves to the trees, and the sun to the outside,
For a great silver hail descend'd up in the people so that they lift their books and their voices and their nature turn'd to the praise of our God on a sudden and in the land.*

*Even a merry ball was made to make the time glad in the town and the country the houses and the streets
And the people rejoiced, and they were very merry and full of merriment
And it was both merry as it is wont to be.*

*The professor is my shepherd, I shall not study.
He maketh me to lie down in the wee hours;
His homework leadeth me through the stacks.
He restoreth my apathy; he leadeth me in the path of knowledge for my own sake.
Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of failure,
I will fear plagiarism.
The professor is with me, his assignments and his staff they exploit me.
He preparast a test for me in the presence of my classmate.
He annointest my head with trivia
(meanwhile my mug runneth over.)
Surely, after many scrolls are published while he is at the Hill,
He will wear the cloak of Holy Tenure forever.*

University Day

Organizations of Residence Colleges

In the beginning, they fixed the roof of Old East, for the termites had run out of wood.

*And it was said, "Let there be lights!"
and there were no bulbs.*

The officials saw the darkness, and sent repairmen three months later.

Then men saw that it was good enough to break again in a week.

And on another day they said, "Let the woods be bulldozed, and let South Campus emerge from the swamps."

And South Campus brought forth high rises, and rowches and good living;

and everybody thought that it was good fun.

And the University was blessed

And went forth and recruited and multiplied to 20,000 students.

More apartments were built and Granville arose like thorn monsters from the sea.

And the real estate men saw that the money was good.

And then it was rumored that Henderson was to be a living learning center.

And the girls and guys on North Campus thought it might be a good chance . . .

And then the administration said, "Let us make Student Government in our own image, and let them have dominion over their subject." I replied, "So YG blessed itself and said, 'We must be faithful and fearless, and they created the Campus Government Council and thought it might be good."

And there was a stir on the Hill about the Daily Tar Heel and its much publicized survey car, and the students gave money to help because they saw that the DTG was good. And all the other clubs and organizations fretted much about their money, for each thought that it was good. But Dick the Mobley One, and his cohorts, through affinity,

Then after looking over all of the residence colleges and organizations, a hitch fell round about and we saw that this idea was good.

*In the fall, the sororities and fraternities they rusbeth,
And even so in the spring.
For as the rusbees cometh,
So doth the beer chugging.
The Greeks are the established among the unconventional
The organized amidst the masses,
The brogbers and sisters united.
They abideth in great dwellings,
And celebrate the victories of the sporting troops.
And lo, they even provideth carnivals that benefit the Campus Chest
And they pileth pennies to help the crippled,
That they might walk once more.
Whether the occasion might be the sacrifice of the Great Pumpkin for carving,
The celebration of St. Valentinus among the children,
Or the parade of the triumphant Rabbit,
They smileth even so as they laugh,
And are at peace with themselves.*

*Create in me a celebrity, O coach;
and renew a winning spirit within me.
Cast me not away from thy team and take not my jersey from me.
Keep unto me the joy of victory and uphold me with thy money.*

*Then will I teach the rivals their place;
and high school stars shall be converted unto UNC.
Thou shalt thou be pleased with the winning records and with the offerings of the alumni, and especially with the Carmichael Cup upon thy mantle.*

Thank You

B people

To every person there is a number and no time for anything under blue heaven

A time to be bored and a time to cry;

A time to drop and a time to add those courses which he hath heard were easy;

A time to sell books and of course be ripped off;

Lots of time to drink and not much time to study;

A time to love in the grass and a time to itch;

A time to get good grades but more time to get bad ones;

A time to play poker but never time to win;

A time to want a parking space, and a time to wish your car hadn't been towed;

A time to cram and a time to sleep;

A time to tell your friends which professor is easy and a time to know that he doesn't pass anyone;

A time for sunshine and too much time for rain;

Each person, in his four years here, hath made a fool of himself and awakened the next morning

With a moan and a time to begin again.

And King Richard said to him, "I am the President, and the Congress, and the Supreme Court; no one comes to the government but through me."

In the beginning of the semester there was optimism, and the people made joyful noises. But now, all is lost.

*Though we speak with the tongues of learned people, without desire, we are but parts of the Big Machine.
And though we have the gift of Wisdom and think we understand all mysteries and knowledge, and though we have potential energy enough to move mountains, without desire, we are nothing.
And though we bestow money enough for four years and treat our bodies with many sleepless nights, we about as are it as if it be us n h.*

It's here that the world beckons

*But when that which is perfect for us is gone, that which we dream will always remain.
For we used to see dimly through rose-colored glasses, but now the world beckons its people and we and only the dreams are left.*
